“Exploring the Extraordinary Value of YOU”

A One-Day Intensive Professional Development Workshop

led by PCI Faculty

Chaplains are as unique as the components of a crew team. High performing chaplains know enough about their strengths to take any position needed. Additionally, the chaplain is a part of strong and steady teams working together to meet patient, family, and organizational needs. In this one-day intensive experience we want you to explore the extraordinary value you offer: leaning into the unique gifts that you, as chaplain, bring to your organization (as rowers lean into their stroke). Learning is designed to develop ways to foster self-supervision, confidence, and innovation in your spiritual care practice.

Expected Outcomes:

- Articulate the essential value of the chaplain in the organization
- Foster self-supervision as a best practice and to support resiliency
- Develop confidence in use of self
- Demonstrate innovative leadership

- Express the importance of spiritual generalist (all members of the care team) and spiritual specialist (you – the chaplain)
- Identify and encourage the strengths of team members

Modalities:

- Minimal Powerpoint (pictures, videos, quotes, description of activities, short didactics)
- Large and small group interactive discussion and activity (work and creative)
- Q & A

Who should participate?

- ❖ Any and all chaplains; the intent is to be as valuable a learning day for seasoned chaplains as it will be for those who have entered chaplaincy more recently. This day is not essentially pediatric, therefore chaplains whose primary placement is in other settings should also appreciate this experience.
